AUGUST 2013

Dear Friend,

This month is a month of contrasts. For one thing we begin re-reading the Old Testament, while at the same time we complete our second read through of the New Testament.

Another contrast is that we are reading from the first book of the Bible at the same time as we read from the last book of the Bible. This means that we read something about beginnings and creation, while also reading about endings, new beginnings and re-creation.

Passages in both Genesis and Revelation can be tricky for us to understand. Even though they have been translated for us, they are still written in language that often challenges. We need to remember that not every passage is likely to be literal, but that it is written using poetry and imagery to enable us to begin to understand the wonders of our God.

May you continue to be blessed as you read of the works of our God.

In His name
Martyn
