READINGS

FEBRUARY 2014

*"O come, let us worship
 and bow down,
 let us kneel before the Lord,
 our Maker!
 For he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture."*

Psalm 95:6-7

Dear Friend,

Already we find that the first month of the new year has passed into history. Time moves so quickly that sometimes we can feel dazed and bemused by it. However, we can always trust in God, for He is always with us - constant and unchanging - and His Word is there for us as both a comfort and a guide through all the seasons of our lives.

This month our journey through the book of Numbers comes to an end. No doubt some of you will be feeling grateful about that as both Leviticus and Numbers are not always the easiest to read. I do hope, though, that you have found some blessing - even in those moments when reading has been a challenge.

Following on from Numbers, we move straight into Deuteronomy and the continuing story of God's people as they head towards the Promised Land.

In the New Testament, we conclude the gospel of Mark and turn once again to Matthew's account. I do hope that the inclusion of hymns once a week helps to give a new perspective on the New Testament readings that have preceded them in that week.

As ever, I pray that God may bless you as you read.

In His name, Martyn
