Psalm 28:7

JULY 2013

Dear Friend,

This month we complete our reading of the challenging book of Job. We then finish the month with more from the Psalms. This now means that although we have not read every part of the Old Testament, we have covered most of it. Next month, therefore, we will return to Genesis and start again. However, as we do so, we will also read those passages, and books, that we omitted this time round.

With our New Testament readings we turn to the two books that we have not yet read this time around. Thus we start with the letter to the Hebrews, and, after a brief pause in the Psalms, we begin to read the Revelation to John again.

I trust that as you read, you find that God opens up new insights into His will, and that you find yourself blessed by spending time both in His presence and with His word.

In His name
Martyn
