READINGS

JULY 2014

*"I will sing of your might; I will sing aloud of your steadfast love ...
 for you, O God, are my fortress, the God who shows me steadfast love."*

Psalm 59:16-17

Dear Friend,

As July begins, we find ourselves halfway through the year, and in the heart of the summer—which for once has been gracing us with sunshine and warmth. It also heralds a period of intense sporting excitement.

Wimbledon is well under way, and we are also being entertained by the World Cup. Of course, the England team has managed to fail to excite once again and the hopes of many have been dashed for yet another four years.

However, as we conclude our reading of Mark's gospel, and begin to read the gospel of Luke, we are reminded that our hope is in Jesus. And unlike the often forlorn hopes of human ways, we know that hope in Jesus is not futile, but is sure and certain.

Our Old Testament readings continue to take us through the book of 1 Samuel, and towards the end of the month they are interspersed with readings from the Psalms. These particular Psalms link in with the story of our readings from 1 Samuel and therefore, hopefully enhance that story for us.

May you rejoice in the hope Jesus gives as you read.

In His name, Martyn
