READINGS

MARCH 2015

"We know that all things work together for good for those who love God, who are called according to his purpose."

Romans 8:28

Dear Friend,

This month falls completely within the season of Lent. This is primarily a time of preparation for the events of the Easter season, so that we may be more aware of those events, how they affect us, and how we might respond to them.

Our pattern of readings does not change in any way to reflect this season this year, but it is interesting to reflect on those that we will be engaging with.

In the Old Testament we complete the book of Ecclesiastes and its questions about life and meaning. We read about love in the Song of Songs of Solomon, and then we move onto beginning to read from the prophets once again.

Meanwhile, in the New Testament, for most of the month we continue with Paul's letter to the Romans. This letter speaks strongly to us of how God loves us, and in His grace has reached out to us in Jesus Christ. Although Paul's writing in Romans can be difficult at times, there is no better exposition of the gospel, and it is a fitting read for the season of Lent.

May you be blessed as you read and prepare.

In His name, Martyn
