OCTOBER 2012

"The steadfast love of the Lord never ceases, his mercies never come to an end; they are new every morning; great is your faithfulness."

Lamentations 3:22-23

Dear Friend,

Our Old Testament readings continue to come from out of the exile of the Israelites this month. We finish the book of Daniel in the first couple of days, before moving on to read the book of Lamentations.

This is a book which is, unsurprisingly, full of laments. Yet, even so, with all that the writer perceives and experiences, we find within the heart of the book great proclamations of God's goodness. In this regard there is a similar pattern to many of the Psalms, where the pain and distress that is in the author's heart is poured out before God, and yet, at the same time, there is also a great expression of faith and trust there as well. Such writings are an example to us, that even when we are struggling we can trust that our God loves us and walks with us.

After we have read through the book of Lamentations we begin the lengthy book of Ezekiel's prophecies.

Meanwhile, our chronological reading through Jesus' life takes us right up to the beginning of Holy Week.

May God continue to bless you as you study His word.

In His name
Martyn
