SEPTEMBER 2012

Dear Friend,

As we begin a new church year, with all of the busyness that comes with it, we continue to immerse ourselves in the unchanging gift that is the Scripture. The words themselves may be unchanging, but we, as readers and disciples, are continually growing in faith and so we are able to ever learn more about our God through regular and continuous reading of our Bibles.

This month, in the Old Testament, we finish reading the prophecies of Jeremiah and journey through those of Habakkuk, before beginning to read the book of Daniel.

In the New Testament, our attempt at a chronological reading of the life of Jesus continues. At times it flicks back and forth between different gospels in order to include certain events, while at others it follows through a number of chapters from just one of the gospels. And all of it so that we might journey with our Lord and gain further insight into His life.

May He continue to bless you day by day.

In His name
Martyn
